HOLTMANN PROFESSIONAL SERVICES COACHING TO SUCCESS

How would you like to discover your deepest strengths and channel this insight into building a stronger reputation as a leader? At HPS, we offer a variety of coaching services to help you stay grounded in your development, turn your strengths into influence, and practise excellence in leadership.

Coaching The First 90 Days

As a newly appointed executive, you will be naturally eager to demonstrate your capabilities as a leader. The risk in being new to this role is that you may create disruption in work dynamics or be too focussed on your own performance. With our “First 90 Days” coaching, we will work intensively on building approaches to gain a deeper insight into the organisation and guide the development thoughtful and effective leadership.

Coaching You to Senior Leadership

At HPS, we have a proven record in working with aspiring executives through a pathway of self-development. This pathway involves assessing knowledge, skills and attributes, and optimizing these towards an intended future career goal. Knowing where and when you want to land your career is a vital part of building a successful legacy.

Coaching for Influence

An effective leader cannot make impact, build engagement, close deals, or even hold successful job interviews without the power of influence. With Influence Coaching, we look at your communication style and critical thinking skills and tune it in to a specific audience. This is then practiced and reviewed until we have the right mix of ideas, facts and emotions to create powerful influence over your desired audience.

Coaching to DiSC

DiSC is a reflective and practical approach to moderating your approach to your work and others. With DiSC coaching, your individual behavioural profile will help us use your strengths to build your complete leadership style.

Coaching Teams to Success

Using the teachings of Patrick Lencioni, we explore team dynamics and build techniques to reinforce optimal team behaviours focussed on trust, healthy conflict, commitment, accountability, and results. This is an essential series of workshops for newly established teams, projects, the new executive and their team, and Boards.
